

Social relationships and friendships

Young people often think that friends are an important thing about school

Adults need to listen to young people about being bullied and being left out

Having good friends, family and pets outside school helps people to feel better and have friends in school

Young people can leave out and bully other young people

Sometimes, how classrooms are organised or being in a unit stops people making friends

Young people with good friends tend to like school

Adults can't always understand young people's relationships and who is friends with who

Young people need the opportunity to make friends in clubs or just hanging out.

Adults need to think about friendships more in school

Adults need to listen to young people
